

AUSTIN PAST AND PRESENT an interactive digital history

AUSTIN PAST AND PRESENT DEMO

The following pages use still frames from Austin Past and Present to give an overview of the project. The selected stills demonstrate the navigation features, highlight the use of video and photographs, and guide users through the project's major focal points.

Home Page

Austin Past & Present

back home index geo-tour time-tour sponsors credits quit

AUSTIN
PAST
&
PRESENT

a multimedia history of the City of Austin

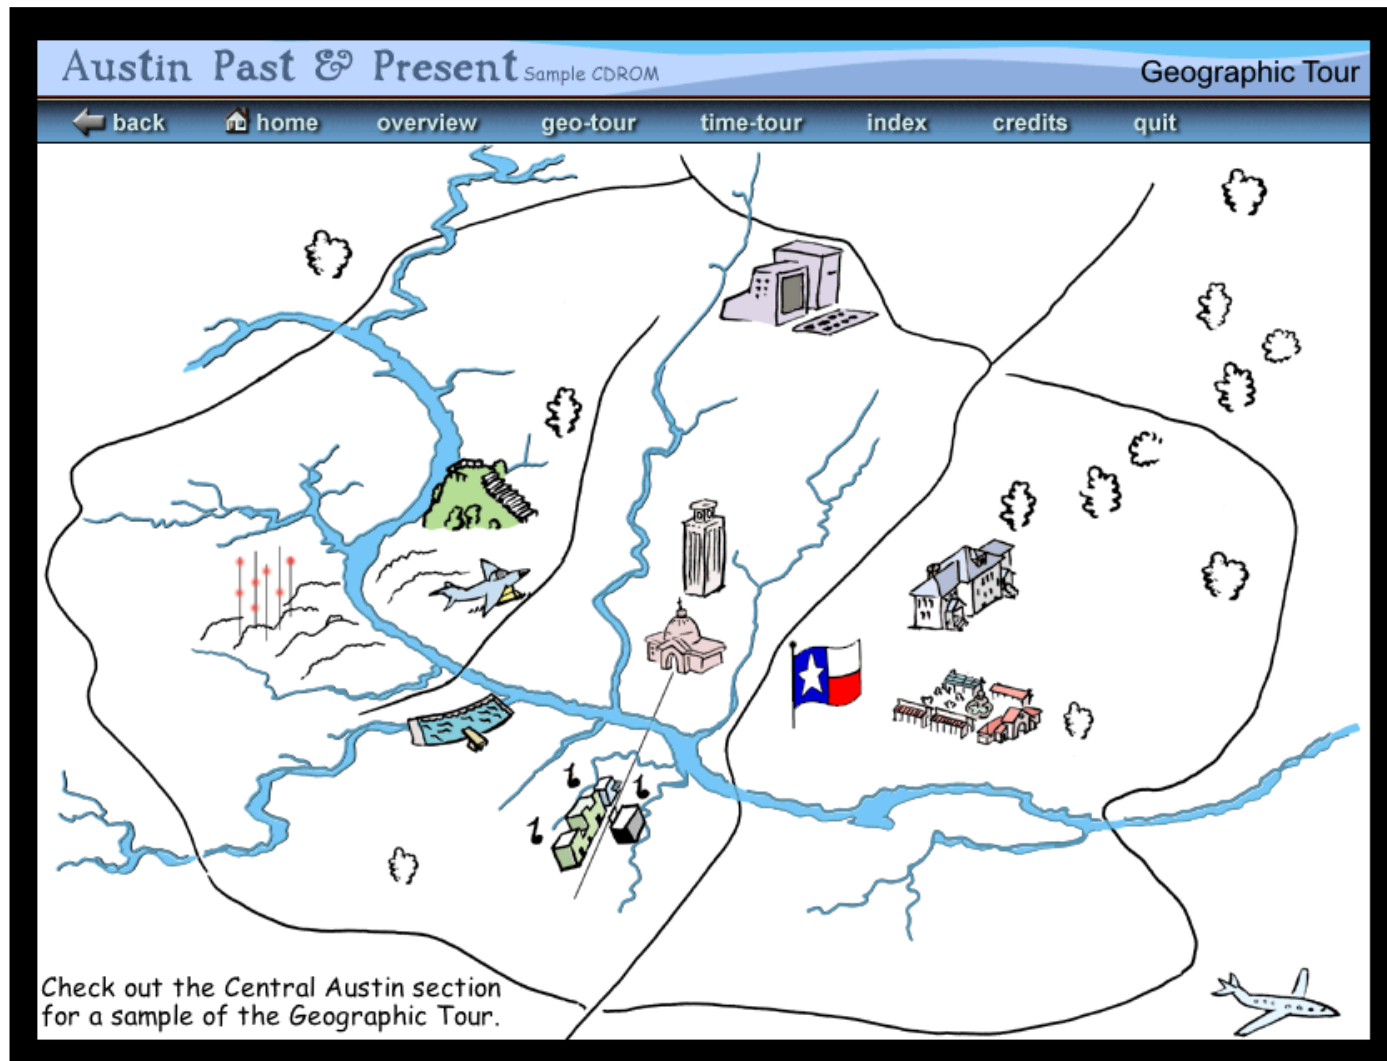

Click on map to take a Geo-Tour

Click on image to take a Time-Tour

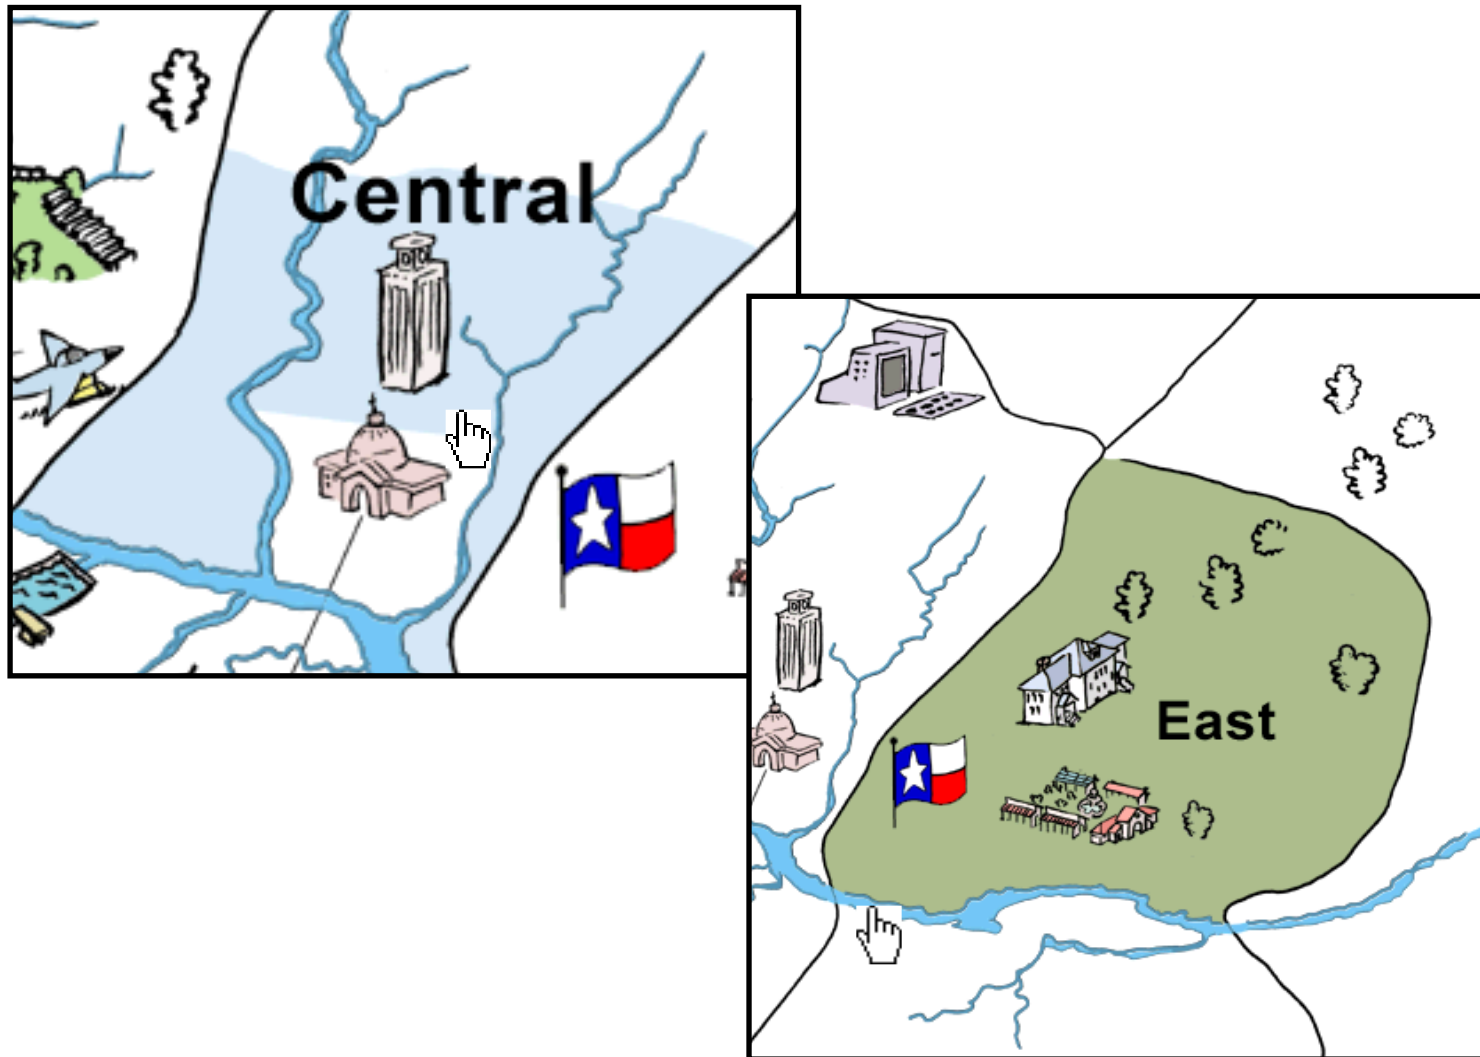

This page is the gateway to the project, where users decide to navigate by location (Geo-Tour) or by chronological events (Time-Tour).

Geo-Tour Main Page

This is the home page of the Geo-Tours, which detail every area of Austin. By clicking the icons, users can explore their favorite neighborhoods.

Geo-Tour Main Page

When passing over an icon, its respective region will highlight as shown above. The user can then click to view the area in more detail. See next page.

Geo-Tour: South Austin

This South Austin GeoTour shows the detail with which users can view each area. Every icon links to informational pages with text and photos. The map also features animations like the butterfly in flight shown here.

GeoTour Video

This is a still frame of a video featured in the Shoal Creek section of the Central Austin GeoTour.

Time Tour Main Page

This page is the gateway to each time period. Users can click the arrows on either side of the timeline to move closer to the present or further into the past, clicking on specific eras to learn more.

Time Tour Timeline

This TimeTour section also contains a timeline that users navigate using the arrows on either side of the line. Each milestone contains a larger description. Here, the era listed as “Circa 135 million years ago to 65 million” is described in more detail.

Time Tour Biographies

This screen shows how biography photos appear when displayed without text. To view the biographical information, users click on the photo. See next page.

Biographies

The screenshot shows a web browser displaying the 'Austin Past & Present' website. The page title is 'Time Tour : Town in Transition 1950-1975'. The navigation bar includes links for back, home, index, geo-tour, time-tour, sponsors, credits, quit, and a print button. Below the navigation bar, there are dropdown menus for '1950-1975' and 'Time Line 1950-1975', and a 'Choose a Biography' dropdown. The main content area is divided into two columns. The left column, titled 'More Stories', lists 'Liliardo "Lalo" Campos' with links for 'Noche de Fiesta' in English and Spanish. The right column displays the biography for Liliardo 'Lalo' Campos, including his birth and death dates, occupation, and a quote. A large black and white photograph of Lalo Campos sitting at a radio desk is shown on the right. The biography text is partially visible, with a scrollbar indicating more content below.

Austin Past & Present Time Tour : Town in Transition 1950-1975

back home index geo-tour time-tour sponsors credits quit print

1950-1975 Time Line 1950-1975 Choose a Biography

More Stories

Liliardo "Lalo" Campos
"Noche de Fiesta" English
"Noche de Fiesta" Spanish

Liliardo "Lalo" Campos
Born: November 8, 1924
Died: October 6, 2004
Occupation/Significance: radio personality

"I would play Mexican music of all kinds, then do the commercial live in Spanish, and the fellow who was on the board would say 'Well, that was fine and dandy, Lalo, but a lot of our listeners don't understand Spanish. Can you repeat it in English?' To this day, old friends see me and holler, 'Say it in English, Lalo!"

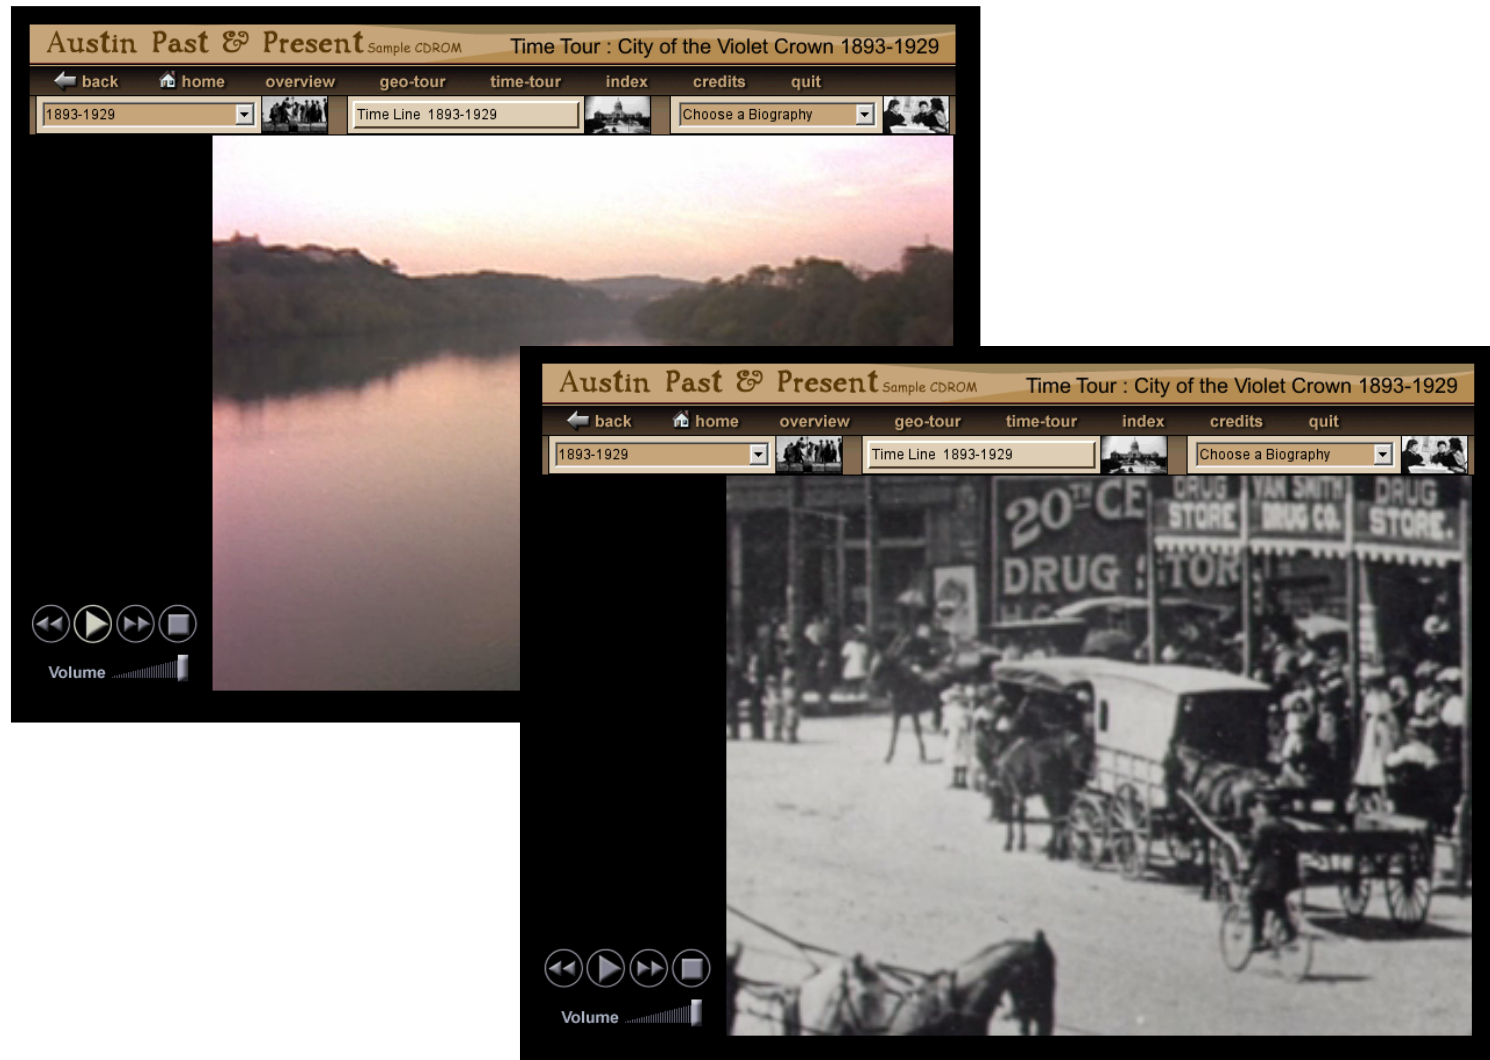

"Lalo" Campos, Austin American-Statesman, October 17, 2004

Liliardo "Lalo" Campos was the voice for Mexican-Americans in Austin during the years following World War II. The first Mexican-American radio personality in the city, Campos hosted KVET's "Noche de Fiesta," a nightly bilingual music show. During his time as host, the show found an untapped niche, bridging a gap for Mexican families living in Austin, and expanded from a 30-minute program to a two-hour show.

"Lalo" Campos: first Mexican American radio personality in Austin

This screen illustrates how biographical photos and text are displayed together. Users scroll down the text to view the full biography.

Time Tour Videos

These are still frames of two different videos featured in the “City of the Violet Crown” era of the TimeTour.

Index

Austin Past & Present

← back home index geo-tour time-tour sponsors credits quit

Austin Past and Present
Multimedia History of the City of Austin
INDEX

(Click one of the buttons to choose your index)

People

Tonkawa Chief Placido
Detail of C0340
Austin History Center,
Austin Public Library

Places

1922 Tornado at the Capitol
Detail of PICA 00406
Austin History Center,
Austin Public Library

Subject

Last stone in the 1900 dam
Detail of image
Texas State Library
and Archives Division

This page offers three ways to search the entire project -
by people, places and subjects.